JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

ORDER APPOINTING TECHNICAL ADVISOR

The Court finds that the technology in the above-captioned case is exceptionally complex and warrants the appointment of a technical advisor. This case involves inter alia U.S. Patent No. 8,891,347, which is titled “User-Focusing Technique for Wireless Communication Systems” and relates to channel estimation and pre-distorting signals. The patent is classified in fields including arrangements for dividing transmission paths. The specification discusses propagation paths, Doppler frequency and phase shifts. Full appreciation of the parties’ upcoming arguments requires an understanding of communications systems and wireless transmission technology.¹

The Court hereby appoints Darryl J. Adams to serve as the Technical Advisor for the Court in this case. Given his background and qualifications, the Court is satisfied that Mr. Adams’ appointment pursuant to the terms of this Order would assist the Court in this case. Mr. Adams’ contact information is as follows:

Finally, depending on the needs of the case, Mr. Adams may also assist the Court with motions for summary judgment, Daubert motions, trial preparation and rulings, post-trial motions, and any other Court task that requires an appreciation of the complex technology included in the asserted patents.
